Living Jesse's life for 31 days with a completely uncompromising ex-Seal just takes fitness to a completely new level. I guess it really is about mind control and how we always opt for the easy route. Although its told in a light hearted way I think what Jesse achieved many of us would have struggled with, it really is quite an achievement.

Jesse did just that. I recently asked the wildly successful and completely unorthodox Jesse Itzler to share some of his experiences. His new book Living with a Seal: 31 Days Training with the Toughest Man on the Planet, is a hilarious account of his physical fitness journey. (Warning: the book contains language that may be offensive to some ...

So when Jesse felt himself drifting on autopilot, he hired a rather unconventional trainer to live with him for a month- an accomplished Navy SEAL widely considered to be the toughest man on the planet! LIVING WITH A SEAL is like a buddy movie if it starred the Fresh Prince of Bel- Air...and Rambo. Jesse is about as easy-going as you can get. SEAL is...not. Jesse and SEAL's escapades soon ...

"SEAL," as I call him in my book, Living With a SEAL, is widely considered to be the toughest man on the planet, both mentally and physically. On top of being an American hero, he broke the Guinness World Record for most pull-ups in a day. He did 4,030 in 17 hours. He takes the term "no excuses" to another level. I kept a blog of our time together. The blog hit a nerve among both fitness ...
